

Motoaki Takahashi

mtakahas@uni-mainz.de motoaki.takahashi@ifw-kiel.de

<https://motoakitakahashi.github.io/>

Employment

- 2023- Postdoctoral Researcher, Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz (Germany)
References: Philip Sauré and Klaus Wälde
- 2024- Researcher, the Kiel Institute for the World Economy (Germany)
Reference: Julian Hinz

Affiliations

- 2024, 2022 Visiting Researcher, Institute of Economic Research, Hitotsubashi University (Japan) 2021

Education

- 2023 Ph.D. in Economics, Pennsylvania State University (USA)
- 2017 Master of Economics, Hitotsubashi University (Japan)
- 2015 Bachelor of Economics, University of Tokyo (Japan)

Research Fields

Spatial Economics, International Trade

Working Paper

“The Aggregate Effects of the Great Black Migration.”

Grants and Awards

- 2024 Grant: IERPK2417, 750,000 yen, Institute of Economic Research, Hitotsubashi University
(with Hayato Kato (principal investigator), and Kensuke Suzuki)
- 2023 Grant: IERPK2321, 1,000,000 yen, Institute of Economic Research, Hitotsubashi University
(with Hayato Kato (principal investigator), and Kensuke Suzuki)
- 2023 Fumio Dei Award, IEFS Japan
- 2022 Grant: IERPK2210, 300,000 yen, Institute of Economic Research, Hitotsubashi University
(with Kensuke Suzuki, Taiji Furusawa, and Daiji Kawaguchi)
- 2021 Grant: IERPK2114, 300,000 yen, Institute of Economic Research, Hitotsubashi University

(with Kensuke Suzuki, Taiji Furusawa, and Daiji Kawaguchi)

2017 Fulbright Scholarship

2015 Distinguished Senior Thesis Award, University of Tokyo

Presentations

(including scheduled)

2024 Bielefeld University, Osaka University, CITP (Nottingham), German Council of Economic Experts (Wiesbaden)

2023 Bank of Japan, Hitotsubashi University, the Kiel Institute for the World Economy, RIEF Doctoral Meetings (Brussels), IEFS Japan, Midwest Economic Association Annual Meetings (Cleveland), Urban Economic Association European Meetings (Milan), Keio University, Musashi University, the Japan Society of International Economics Kanto, SWET (Sapporo), CEPR Macroeconomics and Growth Meeting (Madrid), “Urban Labor Markets and Local Income Inequality” Workshop (Nürnberg), Aarhus-Kiel Workshop (Sandbjerg)

2022 Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz

2019 Osaka University